GENERAL INTRODUCTION

PROVENANCE

The papers were received in July 1996 from the Needham Research Institute, Sylvester Road, Cambridge.

OUTLINE OF THE CAREER OF JOSEPH NEEDHAM

A fuller account is to be found in the introduction to the catalogue of Joseph Needham's papers compiled in 1995 (NCUACS 54/3/95), to which this catalogue forms a supplement.

Noel Joseph Terence Montgomery Needham (known as Joseph) was born in London on 9 December 1900, the son of Joseph and Alicia Adelaide Needham. He was educated at Oundle School 1914-1918 and Gonville and Caius College, Cambridge 1918-1922 where he studied for the Natural Sciences Tripos. Needham then went on to postgraduate research in the Cambridge Biochemistry Department under Frederick Gowland Hopkins, supported by a Benn Levy Studentship 1922-1924. He was elected a Fellow of Gonville and Caius College in 1924 and in the same year married Dorothy Mary Moyle (1896-1987), a fellow researcher in the Department. Needham was appointed University Demonstrator in Biochemistry in 1928 and in 1933 succeeded J.B.S. Haldane as Sir William Dunn Reader in Biochemistry. He held this post until 1966 when he became Master of Gonville and Caius College. He retired from the Mastership in 1976.

Needham's early biochemical research focused on embryology. In Chemical Embryology published in 1931, Needham explained embryological development as a chemical process. He then extended this work with research into various aspects of morphology, culminating in his 1942 book Biochemistry and Morphogenesis. He combined a high rate of productivity in biochemistry with a prolific output of articles on historical, religious, political and philosophical subjects. Needham also gave many lectures, likewise on historical, philosophical, religious and political subjects in addition to those of purely biochemical interest.

As well as his contributions to the development of biochemistry in Cambridge Needham was an important figure in the establishment of the history of science as an academic discipline at Cambridge as a founder member of the History of Science Lectures Committee. After the Second World War he served on the History of Science Committee and the History and Philosophy of Science Committee until 1971. Needham was also a leading figure in the International Union of the History and Philosophy of Science.

Needham's interest in China dated from the mid-1930s. In 1942 Needham went to China as Head of the British Scientific Mission and under the auspices of the British Council established the Sino-British Science Cooperation Office (SBSCO). The SBSCO was responsible for assessing the needs of Chinese scientific, technological and medical institutions and researchers, and facilitating the supply of equipment and medicines, books and journals to China.

The success of the SBSCO was the immediate inspiration for Needham's vision of postwar international science co-operation. With the form of the future United Nations organisation under discussion Needham argued that the proposed United Nations Educational and Cultural Organisation should include science within its remit. It was appropriate that in 1946 he was appointed the first Director of the Section of Natural Sciences of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organisation. He served for two years.

On his return to Cambridge in 1948 Needham began work on his new project - a history of the contribution of China to science and civilisation. This work was to occupy Needham for most of the rest of his life; the first volume of Science and Civilisation in China appeared in 1954 and by his death it had run to sixteen volumes. Among those Chinese students who had first encouraged Needham's interest in China was Lu Gwei-Djen. The Needhams became close friends with Lu and their careers came together again when she returned to Cambridge in 1957 to assist Needham in this work.

Needham was a religious man. From his student days he was a high church Anglican but combined this with a commitment to social justice. In the 1930s Needham was active in propagating a highly political Christianity emphasising its closeness to Marxism and had a long association with the Parish Church of Thaxted, Essex, identified very closely with the Christian Socialist tradition. In later years Needham's concern for reconciliation between science and religion led to his Presidency of the Teilhard de Chardin Centre for the Future of Mankind. He was also a Reader in the Church of England

Needham was elected to the Fellowship of the Royal Society in 1941 and in 1971 elected a Fellow of the British Academy. In 1992 he was appointed a Companion of Honour. Needham died in 1995, outliving both Dorothy Needham, who died in 1987, and his second wife Lu Gwei-Djen, whom he had married in 1989 but who died in 1991.

DESCRIPTION OF THE COLLECTION

This catalogue of the papers of Joseph Needham is a supplement to that compiled in 1995 (NCUACS 54/3/95). The material has been arranged into sections and numbered to follow the sequence of the previous catalogue, which should therefore be consulted in conjunction with this catalogue. Papers supplementary to the first catalogue have been found for all the sections.

Section A, Biographical, is extensive and supplements the material in the previous catalogue in a number of areas. There are autobiographical accounts, material relating to Needham's university studies and subsequent career, honours and awards. There is significant further family material relating in particular to his mother A.A. Needham and second wife Lu Gwei-Djen and correspondence relating to genealogical research into the Needham family. There is also personal and social correspondence. There is a complete sequence of diaries for 1933-1995. The section also includes documentation of a number of Needham's other interests, including his membership of the Cambridge Morris Men and interest in folk dance, holidays, and financial records. There are many photographs, of Needham and members of his family, friends and colleagues, and of tours of the Cambridge Morris Men in the 1930s.

Section B, Cambridge, chiefly comprises papers relating to Needham's Presidency and then Mastership of Gonville and Caius College. There is a little material relating to the Department of Biochemistry, history of science at Cambridge and to the acquisition of Chinese books for the University Library.

Section C, Sino-British Science Cooperation Office (SBSCO), is chiefly material relating to the book Science Outpost (1948) in which the Needhams gave an account of the work of the SBSCO.

Section D, United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organisation, presents a little material supplementary to the previous catalogue. Most relates to Needham's appointment as Honorary Counsellor to UNESCO after he left the organisation in 1948.

Section E, Research, is chiefly manuscript notes and drafts related to publications. The bulk of the papers cover the period 1929-1930s.

Section F, Publications, is extensive. It chiefly relates to Needham's pre-war and wartime publications but later works are also represented. Included in the section are not only drafts of scientific papers and books but also writings on philosophical and historical themes. Scientific works documented include Chemical Embryology (1931), A History of Embryology (1934) and his contribution to The Chemistry of Life, (1970). There is further material relating to his collections of essays including Time the refreshing river (1943) and History is on our side (1946). There is also extensive documentation of Needham's article 'The geographical distribution of English ceremonial dance traditions', published in the Journal of the English Folk-Dance and Folk-Song Society (1936). The section also presents sequences of editorial correspondence and requests for off-prints.

Section G, Lectures and broadcasts, presents some of Needham's public and invitation lectures delivered on scientific and religious subjects 1928-1990. There is also a little material relating to broadcasts.

Section H, Visits and conferences, presents a chronological sequence of material 1931-1988. Needham's historical interests are represented rather better than his biochemical ones. Among the occasions represented by surviving material are the Second International Congress of the History of Science and Technology, London, 1931, the First Congress of Polish Science, Warsaw, Poland, 1951, a visit to Romania in January 1963, a visit to Sweden and Denmark, April 1964, the Fifteenth International Congress of the History of Science, Edinburgh, 10-19 August 1977, and a British Council sponsored visit to Cyprus, 21 May - 4 June 1979.

Section J, Societies and organisations, documents Needham's involvement with nineteen national and international bodies. Those best documented are the Cambridge Museum of Technology, Needham was Chairman of the Trustees 1968-1981, Collet's Holdings Ltd, of which Needham was a director, and the Royal Society, principally the British National Committee for the History of Science, 1969-1972.

Section K, Politics, documents Needham's wide-ranging involvement in politics of the Left. All the material in the section is post-war. It includes documentation of his concern with peace and nuclear disarmament and Needham's international outlook, naturally focused on China, is also well-represented, in particular by material relating to his Presidency of the Society for Anglo-Chinese Understanding (SACU).

Section L, Religion and society, represents Needham's religious concerns. There is a chronological sequence of sermons and addresses, 1935, 1961-1987 delivered by Needham, principally at divine service at Gonville & Caius College Chapel and at Thaxted Parish Church. There is documentation of Needham's association with the Teilhard Centre for the Future of Man (Needham was Honorary President from 1967), Thaxted Church, Needham's involvement with which dated back to 1927, and various other religious organisations. There is also material assembled by Needham relating to Christianity in China, and religious literature including tracts and offprints which attest to his interest in the Christian Socialist tradition.

Section M, Correspondence, consists of a sequence of longer exchanges arranged alphabetically by correspondent, a sequence of shorter exchanges and single letters arranged chronologically 1923-1994, and references and recommendations. Principal correspondents include Zain-ul-Abidin, Max Pettersson and M. Teich. The sequence of shorter correspondence, the great bulk of which dates from the last twenty five years of Needham's life, reflects his religious, political and especially history of science interests as well as including news of the principal events of his personal life. It should be noted that there is extensive correspondence throughout the catalogue. Much of Needham's correspondence is to be found in other sections where it is retained with the material with which it was found.

There is also an index of correspondents.

LOCATIONS OF OTHER MATERIAL

Photographs, postcards and items of memorabilia were returned to the Needham Research Institute.

The previously catalogued papers and correspondence of Joseph Needham are deposited in Cambridge University Library. Finding aid: NCUACS catalogue no. 54/3/95.

Papers relating to Needham's Mastership of Gonville & Caius College, Cambridge, 1966-1976 are held by the College Archives.

Papers relating to Needham's work on Science and Civilisation in China are held at the Needham Research Institute, Sylvester Road, Cambridge.

Papers and correspondence relating to chemical and biological warfare, 1952-1989 were deposited by Needham at the Imperial War Museum, London. Finding aid: NCUACS catalogue no. 55/4/95.

Papers and correspondence of Dorothy Needham are deposited in the Library of Girton College Cambridge. Finding aids: NCUACS catalogue nos 22/7/90, 37/5/92 and 62/5/96.

A.696-A.716            BIOGRAPHICAL AND AUTOBIOGRAPHICAL 1930-1993, n.d.

For a biographical account written on the occasion of Needham's receiving the Leonardo da Vinci Medal in 1968 see A.747.

A.696                    Television interview for Cyprus Broadcasting Corporation, 23 May 1979.

Two different manuscript lists of questions (one photocopied with Needham's manuscript annotations) for Needham.

Needham was visiting Cyprus as a guest of the Cyprus Research Centre with British Council support. See H.248-H.252. He also broadcast on the history of science in China, see G.138-G.140.

A.697                    'Brain of Britain...and China' by Anthony Butler.

Profile of Needham in the Scotsman Magazine, October 1982, pp 20-23.

Copy of the Scotsman Magazine.

A.698                    Videotaped interview for the Biochemical Society.

Correspondence re arrangements, March 1985 - June 1986; interview agreement, June 1990.

A.699                    Autobiographical account for New Humanist magazine.

The account gives a brief insight into Needham's religious views.

Correspondence September 1991 - February 1992 (Needham's account is in his letter of 26 February).

A.700-A.704      Correspondence with and papers from P.G. Werskey, 1968-1969, 1977-1979.

Werskey was an American Ph.D. student working on Left wing scientists active in the 1930s. He interviewed Needham as part of his research in May 1968 and spent some time with Needham arranging some of his personal papers (see the Conspectus in the previous catalogue).

Werskey's work was published as The Visible College (London, 1978).

A.700              Correspondence 1968.

- A.701 'Record of a Conversation on 21 May 1968 between Gary Werskey, Keith Roberts and Harold Fruchtbaum and Joseph Needham on the "Science and Society" movement in the Thirties'. 34pp corrected typescript.
- A.702 'The Visible College: Precis of a study of the Science and Society Movement in Great Britain, 1918-1941', 31pp typescript, November 1968.
- A.703 'The Visible College. A study of socialist scientists in Britain, 1918-1941', 22pp typescript + appendices and notes. ca May 1969.
- A.704 Correspondence with Werskey re publication of The Visible College, 1977-1979.
- A.705 Miscellaneous correspondence re requests for biographical information, 1968-1994.
- A.706 Letters re photographs of Needham, 1949, 1966.
- A.707-A.710 Passports.
- A.707 1945-1950.

Loose at front is UN letter of credence for visit to Poland and Czechoslovakia, issued 20 June 1947.
- A.708 1947-1957.

Loose at front are UN letters of credence issued 7 May and 14 October 1947 and visa for visit to Mexico, issued 8 October 1947.

A.709                    1957-1967.

A.710                    1965-1975.

- A.711-A.716      Needham's health.
- A.711-A.715      Correspondence and papers in chronological order 1930-1993, n.d.
- A.711              1930-1959.
- A.712              1960-1969.
- A.713              1970-1978.
- A.714              1980-1989.
- 1982 correspondence includes Needham's observations on the effect of ageing for prospective book by Alice Heim.
- A.715              1990-1993, n.d.
- Includes manuscript notes for Needham's carers.
- A.716              X-rays of Needham's digestive system, January 1960.
- A.717, A.718      CHILDHOOD
- A.717              Birth certificate, 1900.
- A.718              Invitation to join and Rules of 'Christian Soldiers Society' (Needham was President). Manuscript in Needham's hand. N.d.

A.719-A.729                      UNDERGRADUATE AND POSTGRADUATE                      1918-1925

- A.719                      King's College Hospital London, 1918.

Certificate of registration as a medical student, 25 May 1918.
- A.720-A.729                      Gonville & Caius College Cambridge, 1918-1925.
- A.720                      Papers re University of Cambridge Previous Examination, March 1918.
- A.721                      University of Cambridge 'Regulations and Schedules for Medical and Surgical Degrees', 1918.

Needham is recorded as having passed all elements of the First M.B. Examination 1920. The book also records Needham's study of Chemistry, Anatomy, Physiology and Biochemistry in Cambridge 1918-1920, and Physiology, Biochemistry and Anatomy at King's College London, 1919-1920.
- A.722                      Certificate of results from First M.B. Examination, June 1919; certificate cards from anatomy classes 1919-1920.
- A.723                      Lists of College prizes and degree awards, June 1921.

Needham received the Natural Science Essay Prize and was awarded BA.
- A.724                      'Outstanding problems of physiology', 6pp manuscript.

Annotated on back 'Nat. Sci. Trip. Part II Essay Paper 24.5.'22'.
- A.725                      List of College prizes, June 1922.

Needham again received the Natural Science Essay Prize.

A.726

Contents of Needham's envelope: manuscript notes ca 1922

These notes appear to have been assembled by Needham at the end of his undergraduate studies when he was thinking of what course to pursue following graduation.

Extract from Cambridge University Reporter, 14 October 1959; letters of congratulation.
- A.745 Award of Sir William Jones Memorial Medal of the Asiatic
Society of Bengal, 1962.
Needham was unable to receive the Medal in person so it was collected on his behalf by S. Sen. However, the Medal was only delivered to him in 1967. See H.156.
Correspondence re award, 1962-1963, 1967; 2pp typescript of Needham's 'Words of thanks'; press-cuttings recording the award.
- A.746 Award of the George Sarton Medal of the History of Science
Society, 1968.
Needham was presented with the award during the Twelfth
International Congress of the History of Science, Paris, France,
August 1968.
Correspondence and papers including 11pp manuscript draft and 6pp typescript copy of Needham's address on the reception of the Medal (in French and Chinese).
- A.747 Award of the Leonardo da Vinci Medal of the Society for the History of Technology, 1968.
The Medal was received on Needham's behalf by W.W.
Nowinski.
Correspondence and papers including 11pp typescript biographical outline of Needham.

A.748                    Honorary Doctor of Letters, University of Hull, 1976.

The Bailie schools were started with international support to train Chinese students in agricultural and other techniques. The Bailie school at Shantan was established by Rewi Alley after the pupils of the Shuangshipsu Bailie School fleeing from the Japanese arrived in Shantan in 1944. It was a technical and agricultural training school for Chinese co-operatives. In the late 1940s all the Bailie schools were amalgamated at Shantan.

The Shantan Bailie School was principally supported by INDUSCO, Inc (the American Committee in Aid of Chinese Industrial Cooperatives). Rewi Alley was Headmaster of the School.

Proof copy.

- F.469-F.471 'Embryology; exact or inexact? A reply to Professor McBride', Discovery May 1932.
- E.W. McBride had published an article in the issue of Discovery, critical of Needham's book Chemical Embryology (see F.388-F.391 above) and of the discipline of biochemistry.
- F.469 Discovery for March 1932 with 'Studies in Chemical Embryology' by E.W. McBride on pp 94-97, annotated by Needham.
- F.470 11pp manuscript draft of Needham's reply.
- F.471 Correspondence with editors and arising, April-May 1932.
- F.472, F.473 'On phosphorus metabolism in embryonic life III. Phosphagen in avian development' by D.M.M. Needham and E. Baldwin, Journal of Experimental Biology 7 (1932).
- See F.137, F.138 of the previous catalogue.
- F.472 Typescript and manuscript draft with extensive manuscript corrections.
- F.473 Notebook labelled on front cover 'Dr D.M. Needham and E.H.F. Baldwin 20/X/31 Phosphagen in plain vertebrate muscle'. Used for notes on experiments 20 October 1931 - 4 July 1932.
- Found with the preceding.
- F.474, F.475 'Notes on dissociability review'. Contents of Needham's envelope so inscribed divided into two for ease of reference.
- Relates to 'Chemical heterogony and the ground-plan of animal growth', Biological Reviews (1933).
- See F.156-F.159 of the previous catalogue.
- F.474 Letter from editor of Biological Reviews re publication, October 1932; typescript draft.
- F.475 Manuscript and typescript notes.

- F.476-F.513            A History of Embryology, Cambridge University Press, 1934.
See F.160 of the previous catalogue.
- F.476-F.491            First edition, 1934
- F.476                    Draft, partly typescript and partly pages of Chemical Embryology, with extensive manuscript corrections and additions.
- F.477                    Proof, with extensive manuscript annotations.
- F.478                    Typescript index; proof of bibliography.
- F.479-F.483            'History of Embryol Original notes (before 1934)'. Contents of Needham's folder so inscribed divided into five for ease of reference: typescript and manuscript notes.
- F.484-F.486            'HoE notes'. Contents of Needham's folder so inscribed divided into three for ease of reference: index cards of references and manuscript notes.

- G.131 Address, Newport Grammar School, Essex, 29 October 1970.
Correspondence re arrangements; programme.
- G.132 'Christianity, Science, China', Hong Kong, 1 May 1974.
C120 audio cassette.
- G.133 'The nature of Chinese civilisation', University of Cambridge Board of Extra-Mural Studies, 25 February 1976.
Needham gave this lecture in the series on 'Recent developments in world archaeology'.
Invitation and letter of acceptance, June 1975; draft programme.
- G.134 'Acupuncture in the history of Chinese medicine', Scandinavian Institute of Asiatic Studies, Copenhagen, Denmark, 27 April and 'The elixir concept and chemical medicine in East and West', Danish Royal Academy, Copenhagen, 28 April 1977.
Correspondence re arrangements, 1975-1977.
- G.135 'Our contemporary discontents', United Nations University Conference on the Civilisational Quest; projects and strategies, Cambridge, June 1985.
10pp typescript 'First draft'; 14pp typescript 'Top copy'.
- G.136 Invitations to lecture declined, 1969-1990:
Ealing Technical College, London, 1969.
Cambridge University Liberal Club, 27 April 1976.
Chiltern Medical Society, November or December 1976 or 1977.
Winchester College, Winchester, Hampshire, ca 1990.

G.137-G.142                      BROADCASTS                      1923-1989

- G.137                      'Recent advances in medical science', BBC radio broadcast from Glasgow, 19 August 1923.
- 8pp manuscript draft dated 18 August 1923.
- See G.117 of the previous catalogue
- G.138-G.140                      Interview on Chinese science and civilisation for Cyprus Television, 23 May 1979.
- Needham gave this interview during his British Council sponsored visit to Cyprus in 1979 (see H.248-H.252).
- G.138                      Brief correspondence re arrangements; manuscript notes.
- G.139                      9pp photocopied typescript list of questions.
- G.140                      Needham's 19pp typescript answers to the questions.

- Printed copy of the talks, used by Needham as a 1983 Greetings Card.
- G.142                      Brief correspondence from Watson, Little Ltd, Author's Agents, re fees etc, 1989.

SECTION H                      VISITS AND CONFERENCES                      H.131-H.264

The material in this section has been numbered to follow that in the previous catalogue (NCUACS 54/3/95).

Material relating to Needham's holidays abroad may be found at A.949-A.1050 in this catalogue.

H.131-H.142            Second International Congress of the History of Science and Technology, London, 29 June - 4 July 1931.

The bulk of this material appears to be the contents of a box originally housed in the Periodicals Room (probably at the Needham Research Institute in Cambridge). The original listing of the material (H.132-H.140), which has been followed in the arrangement of the material below, is at H.131.

H.131                    List of contents of box.

H.132-H.140            Contents of box as listed at H.131.

Not all the material listed was found.

H.132                    '1'. Two photographs of the front and back of the Congress memorial medallion.

Number 2, four enlarged photographs of those in '1' were not found.

H.133                    '3'. Offprints from Science at the Cross-roads. Papers read to the Second International Congress of the History of Science and Technology by the Delegates of the USSR (London 1931).

The Soviet delegates arrived at the last moment and there was only time for them to present a summary of their papers. To disseminate their ideas therefore they were issued in full in English translation as a book.

Number 4. The Beginnings of Science by Charles Singer was not found.

- H.134 '5'. British Association for the Advancement of Science brochure for visit to Down House.
- '6'. Brochure for Congress visit to exhibition at the British Museum 'The First Century of Science in England'.
- H.135 '7'. Brochure for Congress visit to the National Portrait Gallery, London.
- '8'. Brochure on Crosby Hall, Chelsea, London.
- H.136 '9'. Two letters from H.W. Dickinson, Honorary Secretary of the Congress to Needham re arrangements, 23 April 1930 and 19 September 1931.
- H.137 '10'. Duplicated typescript papers by J.S. Haldane, E.S. Russell, Needham, J.H. Woodger, L. Hogben and L.L. Whyte.
- H.138 '11'. Another set of the preceding minus that by E.S. Russell and plus one by A. Yoffé.
- H.139 [12]. Duplicated typescript papers by A.V. Hill, T. Greenwood, G. Windred, H.E. Stapleton and M. H. Hussain, and on Project for the publication of Newton's correspondence.
- H.140 '13'. Congress programme.
- H.141 Letter from C. Webster enclosing 12pp typescript transcript of 'Diary of William Welch' from the Congress, 18 February 1980, with reply from Needham, 19 March 1980.
- H.142 Invitation from J. Rosenhead to meeting on Science at the Cross Roads to commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of the 1931 Congress, Imperial College, London, with reply from Needham declining, November 1981; supplement from Science for People with copies of the papers given.

- H.143                      Conference on physico-biological problems, Institute of Theoretical Physics, Copenhagen, Denmark, 12-14 May 1938.
- Needham spoke on phosphorylation.
- Correspondence re arrangements March-May 1938; material re travel.
- H.144                      Congrès des Sciences Pastoriennes, Paris, France, 18-25 November 1946.
- This meeting commemorated the fiftieth anniversary of Pasteur's death. It coincided with the meetings of the First UNESCO General Conference in Paris (see D.40-D.42 of the previous catalogue).
- A folder containing papers for the congress was subsequently used to hold material re the Needhams' book Science Outpost (see C.171-C.183 of this catalogue).
- Two signed menus, November 1946.
- H.145                      Visit to Poland, ca June - July 1947.
- Manuscript notes on state of Polish science and needs of scientists; calling cards; newspaper cuttings re Needham's visit.
- H.146                      Visit to Sweden and Denmark, July 1947.
- Needham attended the Sixth International Congress of Experimental Cytology, Stockholm, Sweden, 10-17 July 1947 as UNESCO representative (see H.58-H.61 of the previous catalogue) and the Fourth International Congress for Microbiology, Copenhagen, Denmark, 20-26 July 1947. He returned to Denmark in August for a holiday.
- Annotated programme for Congress of Experimental Cytology and newspaper cutting; correspondence re visits to Denmark, July-August 1947.
- H.147                      World Congress of Intellectuals in Defence of Peace, Wroclaw, Poland, 25-28 August 1948.
- Needham planned to attend but instead had to act as UNESCO representative at an International Congress of Geology in London. He sent a statement of support to be read to the Congress.
- Correspondence including copy of Needham's statement of support, June-August 1948; duplicated typescript and printed material arising from the Congress; letter from British Cultural Committee for Peace formed after the Wroclaw Congress, inviting Needham to join, 20 January 1949.

- H.148                      Invitation to Cultural and Scientific Conference for World Peace, New York, USA, 25-27 March 1949.
- H.149                      Congress of Peace, Trade and Friendship with the USSR, 12 June 1949.
- Needham hoped to attend but was unable to do so. He sent a statement of support to be read to the Congress.
- Correspondence and papers re conference and possible participation, including copy of Needham's statement of support, March-June 1949.
- H.150-H.155              First Congress of Polish Science, Warsaw, Poland, 29 June - 2 July 1951.
- Needham gave a short speech at the Opening Session. Accounts by Needham of the Congress were published in Nature 11 August 1951, p 241 and the New Central European Observer, 13 October 1951.
- See also H.85-H.94 of the previous catalogue and J.308 of this catalogue.
- H.150                      'Remarks made at the Opening Session [...]' by Needham, 2pp typescript with manuscript corrections and additions.
- H.151                      Correspondence re arrangements and arising, June-July 1951.
- H.152                      Annotated programme.
- H.153                      Polish Press Agency Information Bulletin reporting on the Opening of the Congress.
- H.154                      Manuscript notes on Polish science and scientists.
- H.155                      2pp typescript draft of article for Nature.
- Copy of 'New Central European Observer', 13 October 1951, with Needham's report on the Congress at pp 324-325.

- H.156-H.160            Seventh International Congress for the History of Science, Jerusalem, Israel, 4-11 August 1953.
- Needham spoke on 'Chinese-Western relations in the history of science and technology' and was Rapporteur. He also visited the Weizmann Institute of Science, Rehovoth, Israel where he spoke on 'Some new aspects of the biochemical approach to embryonic morphogenesis'.
- H.156                    Correspondence re arrangements, February 1952 - August 1953.
- Correspondence arising, September - December 1953.
- H.157                    Congress programme; manuscript itinerary.
- H.158                    Newspaper cuttings re the Congress.
- H.159                    Manuscript notes, etc.
- H.160                    Correspondence from Dorothy Needham and G.D. Lu received by Needham during his visit, July-August 1953.
- H.161-H.164            Hungarian Physiological Society Twentieth Conference, Budapest, Hungary, 8-10 July 1954.
- The conference was attended by both Joseph and Dorothy Needham. Their account published in Nature 18 September 1954, pp 545-546.
- See also H. 102 of the previous catalogue.
- H.161                    Correspondence re arrangements and arising, May-August 1954.
- Includes photograph of Needham with E. Szörényi.
- H.162                    Annotated programme.
- H.163                    6pp typescript draft of account for Nature.

- H.164 Printed material.
- H.165, H.166 Tenth International Congress of the Historical Sciences, Rome, Italy, 4-11 September 1955.
- H.165 Correspondence re arrangements, May - September 1955.
- H.166 General Circular; manuscript itinerary.
- H.167 Twentieth International Physiological Congress, Brussels, Belgium, 30 July - 4 August 1956.

Correspondence re arrangements, April-July 1956; information booklet; manuscript notes.
- H.168-H.171 Visit to Czechoslovakia, June 1957.

Joseph and Dorothy Needham visited Czechoslovakia at the invitation of the Czechoslovak Academy of Sciences. Needham gave three lectures on 'The present position of the organiser problem in experimental embryology', 'Mathematics and science in Chinese and Western civilisation' and 'Contributions of mediaeval China to mechanical engineering and scientific instruments', and Dorothy two lectures on the biochemistry of muscular contraction and one on the chemical physiology of uterine muscle.

The Needhams then took a short holiday in Yugoslavia.
- H.168 Correspondence re arrangements for visit to Czechoslovakia, February - August 1957.
- H.169 Papers re arrangements for holiday in Yugoslavia, May-July 1957.
- H.170 Needham's manuscript notes on meetings with Czechoslovak scientists.
- H.171 Exchange of correspondence with G.D. Lu, June 1957.

- H.172-H.174 Visit to West Germany and Austria, August - September 1957.
- Needham attended the 24th International Congress of Orientalists at Munich, West Germany from 29 August - September. He then went on to holiday in Salzburg, Austria.
- H.172 Correspondence between Needham (in Munich) and Dorothy Needham in Cambridge, August 1957.
- H.173 Correspondence between Needham (in Munich and Austria) and Dorothy Needham in Cambridge, September 1957.
- H.174 Memorabilia from visit to Austria.
- H.175-H.177 Ninth International Congress of the History of Science, Madrid, Spain, 1-7 September 1959.
- Needham spoke in the session of history of technology.
- H.175 Correspondence re arrangements, March-July 1959.
- H.176 Correspondence between Joseph Needham and Dorothy Needham (in Cambridge), August-September 1959.
- H.177 Correspondence arising, October 1959-July 1960.
- H.178 USSR-Great Britain Society and Russian Biochemical Society Joint Meeting to Commemorate the Memory of Sir Frederick Gowland Hopkins, Moscow, USSR, 30 June 1961.
- Needham was invited to speak but the meeting was cancelled in view of the forthcoming Fifth International Congress of Biochemistry to be held in Moscow. It was rearranged for 14 December 1961 but Needham was unable to attend.
- Correspondence re arrangements, March-December 1961.

- H.179 Fifth International Congress of Biochemistry, Moscow, USSR, 10-16 August 1961.

Information booklet only.
- H.180, H.181 Asian History Congress, New Delhi, India, 9-13 December 1961.

Needham had planned to attend but funding difficulties meant that he had to cancel.
- H.180 Correspondence re arrangements, September - December 1961.
- H.181 Programme and list of participants.
- H.182-H.185 Second International Conference of Ancient Historians, Stralsund, East Germany, 3-9 September 1962.

Needham spoke on 'Glories and deficiencies of ancient Chinese science and technology' and Lu spoke on 'China and the origin of medical qualifying examinations'.

Before the conference Needham and Lu spent a short holiday in Denmark.
- H.182 Itinerary; correspondence re conference arrangements, April-August 1962.
- H.183 Correspondence re arrangements for visit to Denmark, July-September 1962.
- H.184 Correspondence between G.D. Lu, Joseph Needham (in East Germany and Denmark) and Dorothy Needham, July-September 1962.
- H.185 Memorabilia. Includes two photographs of Needham at the conference.
- H.186 Planned lecturing tour of India, December 1962.

The India International Centre and National Book Trust of India invited the Needhams to India to deliver a series of lectures on scientific and historical subjects.

/...

- /... However, after the border clash between India and China in October 1962, it was decided prudent in view of Needham's Chinese connections (and his Presidency of the Britain-China Friendship Association in particular), to postpone the visit.
- He learnt shortly before the postponement that he had been awarded the Sir William Jones Memorial Medal of the Asiatic Society of Bengal for 1962 (see A.745).
- Correspondence re arrangements, March-December 1962. Includes correspondence from J.B.S. Haldane re political situation in India.
- H.187-H.191 Visit to Romania, January 1963.
- The Needhams had been invited to visit Romania by the Academy of the Romanian People's Republic in 1961 and 1962. When the planned visit to India was postponed they were able to take up the Romanian offer at short notice. Needham gave lectures on the history of science and Dorothy Needham lectured on muscle biochemistry at a number of research centres.
- H.187 Correspondence re arrangements, 1961-1963.
- H.188 Manuscript list of lectures; poster for lectures by the Needhams at the Academy of the Romanian People's Republic, Bucharest, 16-18 January; itinerary for visit to Timisoara 24-26 January; manuscript notes.
- H.189 Small spiral bound notebook used for notes on visit, 10-23 January 1963.
- H.190 Photographs from visit.
- Found in three envelopes.
- 'JN's lecture on [Chinese] Med[icine] at the Union Med. Socs. Bucharest [15] Jan 63. 4 photographs.
- ' [Dorothy]'s lecture on uterus muscle at Endocrinol. Inst. Bucharest [29] Jan 63'. 3 photographs.
- With Vasile Mirza and family. 5 photographs.

- H.191 Correspondence arising, 1963-1965.

Includes cutting from Contemporarul newspaper, 21 August 1964, with Needham's reflections on his visit to Romania.
- H.192-H.196 Second International Pharmacological Meeting, Prague, Czechoslovakia, 20-23 August 1963.

Dorothy Needham spoke on Contractile proteins at the Symposium on the Pharmacology of Smooth Muscle. Joseph Needham accompanied her to Prague and visited colleagues at the Oriental Institute and the Institute of the History of Science and Technology.

Following the conference the Needhams had a holiday in Austria but Dorothy Needham returned to the UK earlier than her husband.
- H.192 Correspondence re arrangements, November 1962-June 1963.
- H.193 Manuscript itinerary; programme and information.
- H.194 Manuscript notes by Dorothy and Joseph Needham.
- H.195 Letters from Dorothy Needham (in Cambridge) to Joseph Needham (in Austria), September 1963.
- H.196 Correspondence arising, September-October 1963, n.d.
- H.197 Invitation to 26th International Congress of Orientalists, New Delhi, India, 4-10 January 1964.
- H.198-H.201 Visit to Sweden and Denmark, April 1964.

Needham was invited to lecture at the Universities of Stockholm and Uppsala, Sweden. He subsequently was invited to lecture at Stockholm and he took the opportunity to visit Denmark (in response to an invitation first made in 1956).

- /...
- He had also been invited to visit the University of Leiden but was unable to combine a visit to the Netherlands with that to Scandinavia.
- Needham lectured on 'Legacy of China', to the Danish Association for Cultural Relations with China, Copenhagen, 6 April, 'The concept of the Laws of Nature in China and the West', Aarhus University, 7 April, and 'Time and the Eastern Man', Copenhagen University, 8 April.
- He lectured on 'China's scientific influence on the western world' at the Wenner-Gren Center Foundation, Stockholm, 9 April.
- At Uppsala Needham gave lectures on 'Contacts and transmissions between China and the West in science and technology', 13 April, 'Laws of nature. The development of the conception of laws of Nature with relation to natural law and juristic philosophy in east and west', 14 April, 'Poverties and triumphs of the Chinese scientific tradition', 15 April, 'Bureaucratic feudalism, science and technology in China', 16 April and 'Taoism and science in China', 17 April.
- Dorothy Needham lectured on 'The biochemistry of the contractile mechanism of smooth muscle' to the Physiological Society of Stockholm, 10 April.
- H.198 Correspondence re visit to Sweden, November 1962 - June 1964.
- H.199 Correspondence re visit to Denmark, January - April 1964.
- Correspondence re earlier planned visit to Denmark, found with preceding, 1956-1957.
- H.200 Correspondence re possible visit to the Netherlands, October 1962-1964.
- H.201 Manuscript itinerary; list of lectures at Uppsala; press-cuttings on Needham's visit; memorabilia
- H.202 Commemorative Meeting to celebrate the centenary of the birth of Sir William Bate Hardy, Cambridge, 16-17 June 1964.
- Correspondence re arrangements; programme; information.
- H.203 Correspondence re invitation to visit India, March-June 1964.

- H.204                      Invitation to National Conference on the History of Medicine, Bucharest, Romania, 27-29 May 1965, with letter declining.
- H.205-H.207              Eleventh International Congress of the History of Science, Poland, 24-29 August 1965.
- The Needhams travelled to Poland via Austria where Joseph Needham attended a symposium convened by the Wenner-Gren Foundation, 16-24 August.
- H.205, H.206              Correspondence re arrangements and arising.
- H.205                      July 1964-May 1965.
- H.206                      June-September 1965.
- H.207                      Manuscript itineraries; notes.
- H.208                      Visit to CERN, Geneva, Switzerland, 24 March 1966.
- Needham lectured on 'Clocks and rockets for Barons and Mandarins' to the CERN Staff Association.
- Correspondence re arrangements, September 1965-March 1966; notice of lecture.
- H.209                      International Congress of Maritime History, Beirut, Lebanon, September 1966.
- Correspondence re arrangements, June, August 1966; manuscript notes; two photographs of conference occasions; annotated map of Beirut.
- H.210                      Scientific conference, Denmark, 28-29 September 1967.
- Correspondence re arrangements June-July 1967; manuscript notes; printed memorabilia.
- H.211                      Invitation to Twenty-second International Congress for the History of Medicine, Bucharest, Romania, 30 August - 5 September 1970.

- H.212 Conference on Seventeenth Century Chinese Thought, Bellagio, Italy, 6-12 September 1970.

Correspondence February-August 1970; programme.
- H.213 Invitation to International Comenius Conference on Comenius and the Reform of Human Affairs, Prague, Czechoslovakia, 8-11 September 1970.
- H.214 Invitation to Twenty-eighth International Congress of Orientalists, Canberra, Australia, 6-12 January 1971.
- H.215 Invitation to World Organisation of General Systems and Cybernetics Congress, Oxford, 28 August - 1 September 1972.
- H.216-H.219 Visit to Ontario, Canada, 25 November - 7 December 1972

Needham was invited to the University of Toronto to receive an Honorary Doctorate on 3 December. He was accompanied by Dorothy Needham. In Ontario the Needhams also visited the University of Guelph, the Royal Ontario Museum and York University.

At the University of Guelph Needham spoke on 'The ancient Chinese roots of chemical medicine' and 'The coming of ardent water - a Central Asian discovery?' At the Royal Ontario Museum he spoke on 'Archaeology and science in contemporary China', 'Alchemy and early chemistry in East and West' and 'Classical botany in China' and at York University he gave a seminar on 'Cultural changes after the cultural revolution'.

Dorothy Needham spoke on University of Guelph on 'Muscle Contraction: From the Greeks to the Sliding Mechanism' and 'Questions concerned with the mechanism of contraction in vertebrate smooth muscle'.
- H.216 Correspondence re arrangements, March - November 1972.
- H.217 Itineraries and notices of lectures.
- H.218 Press-cutting from the Toronto Globe and Mail, 30 November 1972 reporting Needham's visit
- H.219 Correspondence between the Needhams and G.D. Lu, November, December 1972.

- H.220 Royal Society Discussion meeting on the Place of Astronomy in the Ancient World, London, 7-8 December 1972.

Letter to Needham re arrangements, 22 August 1972.
- H.221 Invitation to visit University of Chicago, USA, December 1972 (declined).
- H.222 Invitation to serve as Chancellor Dunning Trust Lecturer, Queen's University, Kingston, Ontario, Canada, early 1973 (declined).
- H.223 Visiting Professor, Collège de France, Paris, France, 28 March - 8 April 1973.

Shortly before his departure Needham was notified that he had been awarded the Stanislaus Julien Prize by the Académie des Inscriptions et Belles Lettres of the Institut de France for his ongoing work Science and Civilisation in China. He received this award on the same occasion.

Correspondence re arrangements, February - April 1973; itinerary; letters to Needham from Lu, April 1973.
- H.224-H.226 Colloquia Copernicana, Torun, Poland, 6-12 September 1973.

As President of the Division of History of Science of the International Union of the History and Philosophy of Science Needham gave the opening address at the colloquium.

Following the colloquium Needham visited Italy.
- H.224 Colloquium information; manuscript itinerary.
- H.225 Correspondence re arrangements etc., March - September 1973.
- H.226 Manuscript draft of Needham's address.

- H.227, H.228 Visit to Belgium, 16-19 March 1975.
- Needham was invited to Belgium as guest speaker at the Institut Hautes Études de Belgique, Brussels. He spoke on 'L'Evolution de la Technologie du Fer et de l'Acier en Chine'. While in Belgium Needham also spoke at a meeting of Amitiés Belgique-Chine in Brussels on the influence of modern thought on modern China and at the University of Ghent on early chemistry and the elixir idea in East and West.
- H.227 Correspondence re arrangements and arising, December 1973 - March 1975.
- H.228 Manuscript itinerary; programme of lectures at the Institut.
- H.229-H.233 Canadian Association for Asian Studies Annual Conference, Montreal, Canada, 12-14 May 1975.
- Needham spoke on 'History and human values: a perspective for Chinese science and technology'. While in Canada Needham visited colleagues at other research centres.
- H.229 Annotated programme.
- H.230 Itinerary; manuscript note of activities; annotated section of map of Toronto; notes on restaurants.
- H.231 Correspondence re arrangements, October 1974 - May 1975.
- H.232 5pp typescript 'Facteurs humains, facteurs techniques dans la developpement agricole de la Chine et de l'Inde' by G. Etienne (in French), with summary in English.
- H.233 Letter from Canadian Broadcasting Corporation thanking Needham for contribution to broadcast on 'Science et Société', 28 April 1975.

- H.234-H.238 Cecil H. and Ida Green Visiting Professor at the University of British Columbia, Vancouver, Canada, July - August 1975.
- Needham was first invited to take up the Professorship in 1972 but declined owing to prior engagements. Needham was able to take up the offer in 1975. He gave a number of lectures on aspects of the history of Chinese science.
- H.234 Correspondence re arrangements, May 1972 - August 1975.
- H.235 Notice of lectures to be given by Needham; manuscript itineraries.
- H.236 Correspondence between Needham and Dorothy Needham and G.D. Lu in Cambridge July - August 1975.
- H.237 Brochure for and Needham's manuscript notes on visit to the Lester Pearson College of the Pacific, Vancouver Island.
- H.238 Letters arising from Needham's visit, September and October 1975.
- H.239 Invitation to conference on Science in Society, Brussels, Belgium 24-25 February 1976 (declined).

L.360-L.412                      Thaxted Parish Church, Essex                      1934-1990

Needham (with his wife Dorothy) began regular attendance at Thaxted Parish Church in 1927 and remained associated with Thaxted for the rest of his life. Thaxted Parish Church had a distinctive tradition within the Anglican Church which was established by Conrad Noel who was vicar, 1910-1942 and continued by his son-in-law, Jack Putterill who succeeded him as vicar, serving 1942-1973. Writing to the Bishop of Chelmsford in 1984, Needham summarised the Thaxted tradition as consisting of three features: '(1) A very thoroughgoing Christian socialism, (2) A liturgical care for distinctively English mediaeval antecedents, and (3) A marked attention to music and all that went with it.' In the same letter he credited Conrad Noel's example and preaching with playing a major part in the formation of his own world-outlook, set forth in several books of essays. See also L.401.

Needham was involved in many aspects of the life of the church including the choice of Putterill's successor in 1973.

Documentation of Needham's addresses and sermons at Thaxted, 1976-1987, is presented in the sequence of sermons, lectures and addresses at L.41-L.259.
